Main Point: Differences of opinion between fellow believers should never cause division within the local church.

Three Questions:

I. Who are these weak people?

II. What is the conflict?

III. How did Paul think the church should solve the problem?

Three Principles:

1. God always appeals to the mature believer first when it comes to issues of opinion. (14:1)

2. Disagreements over Christian freedom should never result in divisiveness. (14:3)

3. Diverse practices that are motivated by the glory of God and do not violate the revealed will of God should never divide the people of God. (14:4-12)
